Casts of Figures Made Four Thousand Years Ago      Melancholy Reflections of the Young Men From Saint Briden

"What a small world it is, after all!" said the young man from Sank Bridge, O. He had just moved to Chicago, and for some reason he was not greatly impressed with the immensity of the city.

"For instance," he went on, "I had been in my hotel but a week when I discovered that my uncle's divorced wife lived in the next room, while the man who married a girl I used to be engaged to is on the floor below. More than that, the greatest bore I ever knew in my life, a creature who has haunted me ever since my school days, keeps a big boarding-house in the next building. I have to dodge him every time I go down town. At 4 o'clock this morning, when I thought of all times I should certainly be alone, I started to walk down State street. It was a misty morning, and the gray fog hid even the one or two all night cabmen who were still sticking to their stands. The street was lonely and deserted. I had walked slowly along down to Jackson street without meeting a human being, when suddenly out of the mist a figure loomed.

"'Hello, there!' sounded a voice as we drew close together. 'I haven't seen you for a long time. I'm in pretty tough luck, old man. Can't you stake me to a bed?'

"It was a tramp printer I had known eight years ago in Leadville, Colo. I gave him 50 cents simply because he had proved to me he would avail that life runs in circles around a globe, and that all interests concern one in their circumferences."—Chicago Tribune.

In St. Paul's one day a guide was showing an American gentleman round the tombs. "That, sir," said the man, "his tomb of the greatest naval hero Europe or the whole world ever knew—Lord Nelson's. This marble sarcophagus weighs 42 tons. Hinside that is a steel receptacle weighing 12 tons, and hinside that is a leaden casket, 'crmetically sealed, weighing over two tons. Hinside that is a mahogany coffin holding the ashes of the great 'ero'."

"Well," said the Yankee after thinking awhile, "I guess you've got him. If he ever gets out of that, cable me as my expense."—New York Dispatch.

Mr. A. A. Snyder, Supt. Poor Farm Winnesheik county, Ia., says:—Last winter Mr. Robert Leach used two boxes DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and cured a large running sore on his leg. Had been under care of physician for months with out obtaining relief. Sure cure for Piles. Starke Drug Co.

ABERDEEN, O.
MESSRS LITTMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.
DEAR SIRS:—I bought a bottle of your P. P. P. at Hot Springs, Ark., and it has done me more good than three months' treatment at the Hot Springs. Have you no agents in this part of the country, or let me know how much it will cost to get three or six bottles from your city by express.
Respectfully yours,
JAS. M. NEWTON,

Electric Shocks.

Here are some odd opinions concerning the force of the electric current given by Dr. C. F. Chandler before the Columbian School of Mines:—"An interesting misapprehension which exists in the minds of many people is one concerning the vital dangers which lurk in the pressure of, say, 1,000 volts. The newspapers often tell of a man who has been killed from such a pressure; whereas, in fact, such a pressure alone could not kill a hummingbird. I have frequently caught in my hand sparks possessing an electro motive power of 100,000 volts without feeling anything more than a very slight burn. The danger arises only when the volts are reinforced by a good many amperes or currents. In such a case the force of the current suddenly decomposes all the fluids in the body. The salt in the blood instantly turns to chlorine gas, and the person who has his veins charged with such a deadly poison cannot be expected to live many seconds."—St. Louis Republic.

At the beginning of this century a formal dinner lasted three or four hours and included eighteen or twenty courses. To-day the best private dinner lasts usually an hour, and never over an hour and a half. The best remedy for a good appetite is a box of Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills, which are also a safe cure for disordered stomach, indigestion and indigestion, while, at the same time, stimulating both the appetite and the capacity for food. Ask Dr. S. your druggists, for a trial.
